

APRIL Program Guide

Virtual Story Time

Tue., Apr. 6th @ 10am

Big Cities

Who knew Humpty Dumpty actually lives in a city of tall buildings, large streets, and a very tall wall? You learn something new every day, and our Humpty book has a happy & unexpected ending! Ms. Mary will read After the Fall by Dan Santat & mention a few other books about cities. Kids of all ages can join Ms. Mary for virtual story time & songs all about the big city! Crafts that tie-in will be available beginning April 5th (until they run out.)

Virtual Story Time

Tue., Apr. 13th @ 10am

Dinosaurs

The dinosaurs in these stories aren't really very scary! Ms. Mary will read Dogosaurus Rex by Anna Staniszewski & Doris the Bookasaurus by Diana Murray. She'll also introduce you to other books, songs, and poems that feature dinosaurs! Crafts that tie-in will be available beginning April 12th (until they run out.)

Virtual Story Time

Tue., Apr. 20th @ 10am

Backyard Fun with Family

If your brother or sister shares a special hideout in the yard with you, then these books are for you! Just remember not to lose your temper when your hideout gets too crowded, because your family members can be your best friends. Ms. Mary will read Flora's Tree House by Gabriel Alborozo and The Tattletale by Lynn Downey. We'll also have songs and action rhymes that fit in with the theme. Crafts that tie-in will be available beginning April 19th (until they run out.)

All About...

Tue., Apr. 27th @ 10am

Nikola Tesla

In this virtual program, Ms. Anna will tell you about Nikola Tesla - Serbian-American inventor, electrical engineer, & mechanical engineer - most known for his contributions to alternating current electricity.

All of our programs this month are virtual and will be found at:

YouTube.com/decaturlib

eBooks for eKids

K - 3rd grade

